All the Particulars.

Peck's Sun. There is always something of a startling nature to furnish large headlines for the dailies, and just now it is camp meetings. In various parts of the country enormous out door religious meetings are being held and they are written up in the most sensational manner by re-porters for the great dailies, and headed with black type half an inch high. When the war was ended and peace had been declared we won-dered what the dailies would do for their startling headlines, but there has always seemed to be enough. The entire country might be so quiet you could hear a pin drop, and we are convinced it would make no difference to the great dailies. They would appear as usual in the morning with headlines in big black type which would read, "Extraordinary Quietude!-Unearthly Tranquility Pervading the Entire Universel-The Ominous Silence Believed to Portend a Coming Holocaust of Crimes, Fires and Pestilence!— Opinions of Leading Citizens Interviewed by our Indefatigable Reporters!" The papers would then publish a whole page of special dis-patches from their correspondents in all parts of the country, who were on the spot and were eye-witnesses of the whole affair, all going to show that never in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant was there anything like it, and people would publishing a little paper when there is but little news and a big paper when there is lots of news, would come out with sixteen pages crowded full, and have to leave out advertisements. The New York Herald would fairly shrick with the intense duliness that pervaded the en-tire country, and would immediately send out a scientific expedition to discover the cause. Let us suppose that the duliness continued for three days, and at the end of that time a man in Missouri should cut a dog in two. The great sensational dailies would at once rise equal to the emergency and next morning would contain a full account of the affair under the same kind of head-"Atrocions!-A Mandlin Monster in Missouri Murders a Miserable Mongrel!—The Pale Air Streaked with Pilgarlic!—A Vicious Mob Vowing Vengeance!—Diagram of the Position Occupied by the Puppy and his Murderer at the time of the Tragedy-with accompanying Map of the Surrounding Country-From Our Own Correspondent-Special Dispatch." But, as we said, it is religious meetings that furnish the leading sensation gate around the bulletin boards at the newspaper offices, blocking are the newspaper offices, blocking up the sidewalks and street, eager to learn the very latest, as each dispatch from divine service is received and handed out. Let us be thankful that we live in an age of news-

WEDNESDAY EVENIES, JULY 13, 1861.

And still the farce at Albany goes on, without apparent sign of change.

THE harmless toy pistol seems to have been peculiarly harmless (?) this year. Scarcely a paper comes to hand that does not contain accounts of deaths caused by this destructive plaything.

PREPARATIONS for the show season of 1881-2 are almost complete, so far as the organization of companies for travel is concerned. The Clipper gives In Kentucky, wemen baving children a list of 186, and says there are more of school age, or owning taxable propstill. An examination shows that eight erty, can vote at school meetings. In of these will appear in classical plays, only I in grand opera and 10 in concerte. INSANITY is no palliation for murder in the British courts. On May 11, 1812, Spencer Perceval, then premier of Great Britain, was shot and killed that of Massachusetts. In New Jersey as he was entering the house of commone, by a bankrupt merchant named Bellingham. The assassin had a claim which had been rejected by the ministry, and its rejection was the sole motive for the deed. He was generally believed to be insane; had been in an insane asylum, as had his father before him, and his son after him, all at the same age; but he was convicted of murder one week following, and hanged on Monday, one week from the day of

It is related that one of the kings of France was in the habit of taking an emetic when he had tarried too long over the pleasures of the table, and, stepping upon the balcony of his palace, would relieve his overtoaded stomack in the presence of the delighted multitudes below. In Minnesota they may vote on any quesgence, and 39 are to present plays must pay taxes to vote at school meetings, besides having the right to hold any school office. In Michigan they married women who pay taxes may vote in district school meetings in Nebraska. The New Hampshire law on these matters is almost identical with women over 21 years of age, residents of the school districts, may be elected to the office of school trustee. In New York women who are residents of the district and holders of taxable property in it are entitled to vote at school meetings, while in Oregon this privilege is granted only to widows, with taxable property, having children to educate. Pennsylvania permits women over 21 years of age to hold any school office. Rhode Island only allows them to hold office on school committees. In Vermont they are eligible to the place of town clerk or town superintendent, while Wisconsin makes them eligible to any school office, except that of state superintendent. Of the territories Dakots permits women to vote at school meetings; Washington grants the same right to such as are over 21 years of age and are liable to taxation; while Idsho grants the right to vote as to special district taxes, to widows and unmarried

Inquiry at Annapolis showed that spot, and then gave himself up. At the Baron's funeral the most scandalous scenes took place, giving an odd idea of the boasted "Gumuthlichkeit" of the lower orders of Vienna. The funeral procession had to pass through a jeering and boisterous crowd. The police had interfered to prevent the wife and children of the murderer carrying out their intention of being present, but could not enforce it. A sort of fair was improvised in the cemetery in which old women sold "Sothen lottery tickets" and bakers' boys "Sothen bretzen." The Baron's widow had already received letters commanding her, on pain of death, sample bottle of Brown's Expectorant to provide for the wife and children of the murderer. Dr. Reyburn said, after 1 o'clock this maintains all the favorable symptoms so far as the surgeons can see to cause any new feeling of alarm. He said the case is doing as well to-day as the surgeons had hoped for; that these hot days necessarily cause some increase of fever, and this is to be expected for several days yet. He did not believe the fever would get so high to night as it was last night.

The wound is doing well, and the discharge from it is all right. The feeling of uneasiness growing out of last night's condition of the president was added to by the opinions of some outside doctors, who, though they have not seen the case, predicted evil doctors, as to the increasing dangers. hand do not pretend by any means that of recovery is wearying to the president, but on only two or three occasions has he manifested any such feeling. Yesterday he remarked, in a sort of inquiring way, that it was doubtful if the few years he would get of life at least were worth all the hard struggle he was making. But Mrs. Garfield, who was by him at the time, urged him not to talk that way, as he knew his life was worth all that could possibly be expended to save it. The president promptly replied that he did not have any idea of relaxing any of his efforts, parquette chairs will be used for side seats, and they will also be placed in circular form—thus giving everybody on the lower floor of the hall an opportunity of seeing everything transpiring on the stage.

The entrance to the hall will be rearranged and improved, in order to shut out all noise; and the floor of the hall will be covered with new matting. Nearly $1000 will be expended by Mr. Haines for Mr.

Smith in making the improvements above outlined, and when completed will make our opera house one of the cosiest halls in the west. The new sofa chairs will be certain to give complete satisfaction. It will be a pleasure to pay 75 cents to $1.00

Decatur People in Kansas

Eus. Republican: -- Your correspondent of June 20th confined his remarks of Macon county folks to those living on the east side of the Ninnescah river. In the bend on the west side we find Mr. Dave Johnson, of Niantic, on a fine quarter section of well-improved land, while further down the river is M. Troutman on an 80-acre farm, well tilled. Adjoining is A. Daly, who has 340 acres of bottom land, well watered and timbered, admirably adapted for farming and stock raising; also a quarter section of upland, with good water, which he intends to keep for pasture, as pasture will be n as great demand in a few years as it is in settled up and the sod turned under. The quantity of peaches that will be gathered from Mr. Daly's orchards is simply immense. The adjoining quarter section belongs to Mr. Henry Engleston, who resided in Decatur about eight years ago. Cornering on the southwest is Mr. George W. Ster, who formerly kept a furniture store in Decatur. If we had some of the Illinois mud we could not tell that we had emigrated. This climate is spend the summer among the Alleghany pecultarly adapted to the conge orange for nedges. You don't see any sickly, struggling ledges out here like there is in Macon county. We know that is a good country, but think this equally as good, and much more pleasant gilded baton for the Drum Corps in the

THE AUTOPHONE is the cheapest, best, and most comprehensive automatic musical instrument ever brought forth. It has 22 notes, (six more than any other musical instrument); plays in 3 keys; is simple in construction; it can be played by a child; it is absolutely perfect in its rendition of music, beating its own time, while all others require laster or slower motion.

Does away with cranks and handles, being played by direct action of the bellows. It plays any kind of music. Both Autophone and music are cheaper by far than all others. Send for circular.

A correspondent who has been astonished at the number of ladies who have been burned to death by their clothes taking fire at an open grate or fire, says he is experimenting on an invention by which a lady in case of an accident of this kind can, by pulling a string, throw off all her clothes at once and escape destruction. It seems as though something ought to be done to protect ladies from the fire-place, but the remedy will eventually come through the making of dress materials fire proof. The scheme spoken of by our correspondent, if made to work satisfactorily, in case of fire, might subject her to embarrassments. The string might catch on something when she was out shopping, or some villainous man might and where it was located, and while pretending to escort her across the street, he might pull the string. There are men mean enough to do nt, in Chicago. We advise our cor-respondent not to waste any more time on his invention, as nobody would wear it, after he had it per-
